Lost... Hunting Santa—Alice Mullins, 3, today was sitting pretty in her Roxbury home after going to town in search of Santa Claus. Sitting pretty because she was picked up, entertained by police, and now her mama has written to Santa for her. 'Cause she can't write.

STORY ON PAGE 3

Story's End—When you're a boy, just 11, and you lose your mother, it's hard to believe. Ellsworth Huckle couldn't believe. In five years he ran away scores of times... looking for her. Always he was brought back to his Boston home. "She can't be dead," he said. Then, nearing Christmas, he ran away again. And, at last, on the highway at Ridgeland, S. C., he found her... waiting with death.

COUNTRESS TO FACE COSTER GUN GRILL

Copyright, 1938, by Boston Evening American

Highlights today in the local probe of Arch-Swindler F. Donald Coster's McKesson & Robbins drug firm:

- 1—New England federal authorities revealed Countess Amy Von Hansa as the woman who worked here during attempts to sell 200,000 rifles to foreign governments.
- 2—A third broker, William Keohane of Federal street, says in exclusive interview with Boston American he was contacted by New York operators attempting to sell rifles in New England, and discussed gun-selling with Charles A. Jordan and Cecil R. Ekholm.
- 3—The American learned exclusively spurious Canadian brands of liquor, sold on McKesson & Robbins invoices, has been seized by the local Alcohol Tax Unit.

For the first time today, New England federal officials had in their possession the name of a woman asserted to have worked here in vain attempts to sell 200,000 rifles to foreign nations.

She is, according to federal agents, Countess Amy Von Hansa, and she was sent here, it is asserted, as a "contact woman" to aid local men in arranging for sale of the rifles.

The countess, whose name was given the federal men by one of three important witnesses questioned during the night, will be grilled by government authorities both here and in New York, local officials said.

THIRD BROKER'S STORY

In another new step toward untangling the far-flung ramifications of the Coster group, a third Boston broker, William Keohane of Federal street, told the Boston Evening American today in an exclusive interview that he, too, was approached to enter the gun plot.

He rejected the overtures, he said, when he investigated statements and representations made to him—even going so far as to check with the War Department—and found the representations were not true.

Keohane told the American he was contacted by a New York broker and had several conferences with New York operators connected with the gun ring.

WROTE WAR DEPARTMENT

He also, Keohane said, had discussed various phases of the proposed gun-selling with Charles A. Jordan, Boston stock salesman for 15 years, and Cecil R. Ekholm,

Lake in Plea for Basket Fund Tonight

With the day of days just a matter of hours away, the voicing of Christmas Basket Fund appeals continues, and a highlight of the air waves this evening will be the appearance of Austen Lake, noted sport columnist and feature writer of the Boston Evening American, over the WBZ-WBZA facilities at 9 o'clock.

The Basket Fund article by Austen Lake, on the sport pages of today's editions, will furnish the broadcasting theme, with a special musical setting under direction of John McNamara, program director of the big Boston broadcasting station of the NBC Blue network.

Lake will appear in person, in accordance with a special arrangement with John A. Holman, managing director of the National Broadcasting Company in New England.

Connors Resigns As President Of Downs Track

James H. Connors has resigned as president of Suffolk Downs, according to a statement released by the Eastern Racing Association today.

The statement went on to say that Connors' resignation had been accepted, and that arrangements have been made for other stockholders to acquire his interests in the track.

Connors is a brother-in-law of Thomas R. Foley, recently appointed to the State Racing Commission.

It is understood Connors controlled $100,000 worth of stock in Suffolk Downs. He purchased this stock from Allan Wilson after the latter severed his relationship with the East Boston track.

There was a recent offer made for Suffolk Downs stock at $35 a share, but it is believed that Connors will receive a higher bid for his interest in the track.

PRESS DOLAN PLEA IN COUNCIL

Alarmed at a rebuff by the pardons committee of the governor's council, friends of Edmund L. Dolan, J. Walter Quinn and Robert Dinsmore sought support for their Christmas pardons in the full council.

The trio, each serving a two and a half year sentence in Charles street jail for contempt, were turned down by the pardons committee along with others of the Governor's candidates for pardons. At the same time, the committee voted approval of seven other pardons.

Councillors Frank A. Brooks, Edgar Lindsay and Bayard Tuckerman voted against the Dolan pardon while Councillor Charles F. O'Connor is understood to have voted in favor. Councillor Edward T. Collins refrained from voting.

FREEDOM HOPE SEEN

Friends of Dolan, however, predicted today that enough strength would be mustered to win him freedom today.

If their claim is correct, they must muster three favorable votes from the ranks of Councillors Groverman, Kelly, Burnett and Collins. Councillor Conkley already has publicly stated he would vote in favor, while O'Connor expressed his choice in committee.

Preceding the session at which Dolan was voted down in committee, the council received the re-nominations by Governor Hurley of State Commissioner of Corporations Henry F. Long and Budget Commissioner Carl A. Raymond.

MCKENNEY NOMINATED

Governor Hurley also nominated Joseph McKenney, former Boston College football coach, to membership on the Metropolitan District Commission, to succeed Felix A. Marcella, whose term expired two weeks ago.

Marcella was appointed as a member of the State Board of Housing.

The Governor also appointed Representative Katherine A. Foley, of Lawrence, Democratic nominee for state treasurer last fall, to the $3000 office of director of the state minimum wage commission.

Hug and Kiss Testimony Enlivens Divorce Trial

A private detective who had just testified to having seen his client's wife hugged and kissed by another man, found his own hugging and kissing experience, if any, called into question before Judge John Mahoney in Suffolk probate court today.

"Have you ever hugged and kissed a woman?" the accused wife's attorney demanded.

He detective, Ivan Bloch, flushed and stammered. Judge Mahoney, laughing, said:

"He may answer if he wants to, but the question and answer will be stricken out."

Bloch, who is unmarried, answered:

"Yes, I have. But I had a right to."

Bloch was called as a witness against Mrs. Marian Prince, whose husband, Harold Prince, Columbia road, Dorchester, is seeking a divorce, naming a garage mechanic.

Bloch testified he, sometimes accompanied by another operative, trailed Mrs. Prince and the garage mechanic on numerous automobile rides last April. He was unable, however, to testify to more than just that Mrs. Prince and the garage mechanic did go riding together.

Mr. Prince testified that Mrs. Prince came home "at all hours."

He named, specifically, 2, 3 and 4 a. m.

Mrs. Prince has a cross-bill to her husband's suit for divorce. She charges cruel and abusive treatment.

DEAR SANTA—This is Alice Mullins, 3, who snuck right out of her Roxbury home and went to Boston to see you. But don't hold that against her, Santa, because her mama said she's generally such a good little girl.

Lost Child, 3, Pens A Note to Santa

Dear Santa:

I would have written to you sooner, only I wanted to see you at the store in Boston and tell you what to bring me and my big sister, Anna.

She's ten and awful bossy, but I fooled her yesterday. I tiptoed right out of the house when she wasn't looking.

It was an awful long way to Boston though. You remember where our house is, in Wensley street, Roxbury? You found it all right, last Christmas, but I bet your reindeer were pretty tired.

Yesterday I got tired, too. I didn't have any reindeer, and crossing streets I had to wait and wait, so automobiles wouldn't run over me.

So, after a while, when I didn't seem to be getting to Boston, a nice policeman came along.

He said he'd take me right to his station house and someone he called his "Skipper" would tell you. Santa, all about me and how I had been a good girl and what my sister Anna and I wanted in our stockings.

The policeman said his name was Gustave Janakas. And he said his Skipper knew you very well, Santa, and you wouldn't forget Anna and me, even if I couldn't get to Boston and see you.

"SKIPPER" GIVES CANDY

Mr. Janakas was right about his "skipper" being nice. He was a big man with a lot of gold on his uniform and he gave me some candy.

So everything turned out all right. My mummy didn't even scold me. She's writing this letter for me because I'm only three, and don't know my alphabet yet.

I'm sending you the list of presents Anna and I want. I gave another list to Mr. Janakas "Skipper". Merry Christmas, Santa.

Excuse this letter being late.

Your little friend,

ALICE MULLEN.

Yule Shopping Up 55 Per Cent

Heavy Christmas buying, as high as 55 per cent over last year, was reported today by leading department stores in metropolitan Boston.

Spokesmen for various stores emphasized increase of sales in practical gifts.

Furniture, household appliances, necessary clothing and educational books headed the list. One store reported a 45 per cent increase in educational books alone.

Captain John J. McArdle, of the Boston traffic division, said as many Christmas shoppers have visited downtown Boston during the last four shopping days as did the entire season last year.

Finds His Mother in Death

Boston Boy Killed On 72d Runaway

Ellsworth Huckle has found his mother... for Christmas. In order to understand this story, you've got to go back a few years, when Union City, N. J., police "picked up" a small boy, dirty, tear-stained, ragged, crouched in a doorway.

Star Goes on As Father Dies

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Mary Martin, 22-year-old Texas redhead who rose to stardom in her first Broadway show, felt something was wrong last night when she danced in to the wings after singing her hit song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy."

But she wept just the same, when veteran actor Victor Moore told her what the audience already knew—that her own father, Preston Martin, an attorney, had died in Weatherford, Tex.

Word of his passing was withheld from her more than 12 hours by her secretary, who was fearful the shock would be too great if she were told before the performance. Members of the cast of "Leave It to Me" helped keep the secret.

Moore said the girl, who missed one performance when bad weather grounded the plane as she returned a visit to her father's bed side 10 days ago, behaved like a good trouper.

"She had a feeling about it anyway, so she knew what it was right away," he said.

Tonight the vivacious little actress will perform her usual role, a routine that includes a burlesque of a strip tease dance as well as he sentimental song about a "sugar daddy."

She said she would be unable to attend the funeral.

"I can't leave the show now—Dad wouldn't want me to," she said.

MARY MARTIN
Father Dies

CENTER of three-angled custody fight that opens soon in Dedham court is Robert R. Clark, 8, shown with Mrs. Helen Felici, his aunt.

Ellsworth Huckle, his name was. He was only 11. He already had run away from home five times then.

"I'm trying to find my mother," he told police officers.

"She's dead, my father says, but I don't believe it. She can't be—she's gone away, that's all. I've got to find her and I WILL find her!"

TEND RUNAWAY

Charles Huckle, the boy's father, went to Union City that time and got him—out of a hospital. For within 12 hours of being picked up the boy suffered an attack of appendicitis.

"He just won't believe his mother's dead," Huckle explained. "But she is. She's been dead three years now, and I've married again. But Ellsworth won't believe me. I can't make him believe it."

"She's not dead!" the boy cried. "She's not! I'll find her!"

After that Ellsworth ran away from home again—and again and again and again—a total of 72 more times! Always his explanation was:

"I'm looking for my mother. I've got to find her!"

HIS LAST RIDE

Then he found her—in Ridge-land, South Carolina.

He was walking along a road—had run away from home again—and two local boys came by in an automobile. He thumbed a ride. There was a crash. The two local boys were dead in the wreckage of the machine, and Ellsworth was dying.

Hospital authorities said afterwards he died with the name "Covi" on his lips—his mother's maiden name—and the name of her home town, Revere.

With this as their only clue to the boy's identity, South Carolina officials communicated with the missing persons bureau here in Boston.

HIS RECORD CLOSED

The missing persons bureau here traced the name to the present Huckle home in Columbus avenue, Boston. Mr. Huckle identified a photograph of his dead son. Birthmarks and scars tallied exactly.

At the missing persons bureau today, young Ellsworth's card with its almost 80 entries was marked "Closed."

"He's found his mother—through a bigger Missing Persons Bureau than this one," the records clerk observed.

Escapes Yule 'Gift Death'

WORCESTER, Dec. 21—He was seated low in an easy chair in the dimness of the cellar, smiling.

That was how a woman of the (Greenwich) branch library discovered the library janitor, Wendell Butler, 45, of Oneida avenue, when she came to work today, police said.

Then she became aware of the odor of escaping gas and she saw a piece of note paper on his chest.

Butler had intended to give his death as a grim Christmas present to his estranged wife, according to the note, police stated.

Worcester police worked over him for almost an hour with a pump, but took him to the police station and booked him for disturbing the peace.

DRAG RIVER FOR BODY

RIDDEFORD, Me., Dec. 21—His personal belongings found on the river bank, police today dragged for the body of Adelard Garon, 60, who left a local hospital without a formal discharge.

Magnet Bait for Cannonball Queer Fishing?

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 21 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Millard (Cannonball) Dawson fished against time and tide today for a solid shot he must get out of the Brandywine river by Saturday.

Judge John Lynn fixed the deadline. He said if the Revolutionary war relic was not returned to a riverfront park he would sentence Dawson for rolling it into the river.

Dawson used a magnet as bait. Tide from Delaware bay deepens the river most of each day and limits the hours he can wade.

Milton Girl, 11, Dies of Taxicab Hurt; Dad Lives

No matter how long and weary the day, Dad Morris Murphy's heart was always lightened of its cares once he got off the train at East Milton depot.

For there his little daughter, Marie, 11, waited for him every evening.

But she'll never run to meet daddy any more. She died today in Milton hospital of injuries she suffered when a taxicab knocked her down as they walked hand in hand toward the Murphy home in Sheldon street, East Milton.

Recovering from his hurts at the hospital today, the father was told of his daughter's death. The nurse who broke the news to him was crying.

Dad Murphy didn't cry.

He said:

"God, why couldn't it have been me instead of the kid?"

Jimmy Leaves 'Pols' Guessing

James Roosevelt was back in Washington today for a visit, leaving Massachusetts politicians thinking over his statement here that he "might" run for office in 1942.

The President's eldest son, now a movie executive under the Sam Goldwyn banner, announced in Boston, where he is visiting briefly, that he will not seek office in 1940.

His statement that he possibly would run in 1942 was a bit puzzling, however, as he is understood to have a five-year contract with Goldwyn that will not expire until December, 1943.

Slayer, Wife Unite for Xmas

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21 (AP)

Judson Duke and his "white hibiscus" wife will spend Christmas on a Western Washington farm, their first Yuletide holiday together since he killed a collegiate poet for love of her.

Unemployment and separation for economic reasons threatened to spoil their Christmas, but Duke got his job back and her mother said from Los Angeles, today that they would spend the holiday together.

Duke, pleading the "unwritten law," had been tried twice and acquitted of charges of murdering Lamar Hollingshead, student poet, who wrote passionate verses calling Mrs. Duke his "white hibiscus."

Winter's First Day Cloudy and Cold

Today, the first day of winter, opened cloudy and cold, and continued so. The temperature at 7 o'clock was 23.9 degrees, and did not rise greatly during the early part of the day.

At the East Boston weather bureau, it was said the outlook for the next two or three days was also cloudy and cold. While there is a low pressure area centered over southern New England, the bureau did not look for early snow.

LaGuardia Frowns On More Guards

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS)—

Brushing aside the idea of an enlarged police guard, Mayor LaGuardia indicated today he neither would prosecute nor intercede for James P. Hagan, former WPA worker, who knocked him down on City Hall steps yesterday with a blow on the right cheekbone.

Hagan passed a quiet night in Bellevue Hospital, where doctors say he suffers from a form of paranoia. He is charged with suspicion of simple assault.

Only Few Hours Left To Aid Basket Fund

By THE BASKET FUND EDITOR

A very scant score or more of hours, but a plentiful score of needy—that's the in between from now until Christmas and the Christmas Basket Fund is sounding a call far and wide for aid from YOU and YOU and YOU.

It's almost your last chance to lend a helping hand that will mean food for hungry children huddling now in squalor and without much chance of a wholesome Christmas dinner—that is, unless the call being sounded brings response from many quarters.

But it isn't a matter of much—just a question of many—Dimes as well as dollars can put this humanitarian drive across.

DIMES OR DOLLARS

A hundred dimes means every bit as much as ten one dollar bills. All that is required is the hundred people to send along a dime, and as many as possible to donate a dollar of course.

Anyway, the time is all too short! Just a few fleeting hours and Christmas Day will dawn. Thousands of happy homes, laughing little ones and merry parents, also the same throngs of destitute children, that's the picture.

View it with imagination and then try to brighten it. Only the contribution of every one who reads this no matter how small the amount, can color it all up to match the brightness of the greetings cards, the Christmas tree lights and the whole glorious scene of Yuletide.

CHEER FOR CHILDREN

Now then, for all the poor little Johnnies, Joans and Jackies, let's get together and rally around the Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund drive. As much as you can spare. No name need be mentioned if you choose but PLEASE help out. Your support is sorely needed this minute!

Many givers have helped! Among the checks that reached the Basket Fund Editor yesterday was one from Jack Brown, genial host of the bon ton Casa Manana in Boston. Jack just wanted to be one of the givers and his check was his idea of how to help. You'll find it listed today along with the other goodfellows who have gladly done their grand bit.

Bear in mind the meaning of a bountiful basket to a hungry waiting family that has asked for the generosity that YOU and YOU and YOU can make possible.

THINK OF THE THRILL

Consider the rejoicing of a poverty stricken family group welcoming the driver of a truck on Friday and Saturday when delivery of a bountiful Boston American Christmas Basket is made in many shadowed corners of the city.

They can help to unpack the basket in real glee—finding a fat, luscious turkey, a peck of potatoes, two pounds of onions, assorted fresh vegetables, cans of corn and peas, cake, cookies, fresh fruit preserves, bright juicy oranges filled with vitamins and health—what a thrill for THEM.

WARNING!

Fund Employs No Solicitors

The Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser Christmas Basket Fund employs no canvassers, no solicitors and no workers of any kind to collect funds from house-to-house, from office-to-office, or on the street.

It has been brought to the attention of this office that some conscience-lacking person has been soliciting in the name of the Basket Fund. If any such person solicits you in your home, in your office or on the street, in the name of the Fund, notify police or call the Evening American-Sunday Advertiser city editor at Liberty 4000.

New 'Gift Job' Scandal Hinted

Scandal rumors raced again through the State House today when counsel for the special legislative commission probing "gift jobs" in the Unemployment Compensation Commission demanded to see examination papers in the recent non-competitive examinations.

The report which spread was that only three of the 10 persons certified yesterday by the Civil Service Commission for high-salaried UCC jobs actually passed the test, but papers of the other seven were re-marked with passing grades.

It is understood that one of the men certified by the civil service board won an original mark of only 17 per cent—with 70 per cent as passing.

Today a demand was made by Warren O. Patten, counsel for the legislative investigators, upon James O'Neill, chief examiner of the civil service department, for permission to see examination papers.

O'Neill said he had been given instructions by Civil Service Commissioner Thomas H. Green that the papers could be seen by no one unless Green showed them personally.

When Attorney Patten went to Commissioner Green with a demand, Green refused him permission to see the test papers.

10 CERTIFIED

The legislative commission counsel left, stating he intended drawing up a summons for the papers, which is within the power of the inquisitorial body.

Green afterward said he had told Patten to "come back Friday, but I didn't promise him anything."

The 10 persons who were certified to the high-salaried posts, according to yesterday's announcement by Green, included: George F. Sullivan, Fall River, former secretary to the governor, as director of claims at $4200; Thomas A. Delmore, former representative from Lowell, as assistant attorney at $3180; and Frederick L. Type, former Lowell city council member, as supervisor of claims at $3600.

Also Joseph E. Mawhinney, former city treasurer of Somerville, as assistant secretary at $3180; former Mayor James Hagan of Somerville, assistant director of the unemployment service at $3720; Patrick A. Menton of Cambridge, assistant director of claims $3600; Robert S. Fuchs, son of the UCC head, Judge Emil Fuchs, supervisor of claims $3600; Edward G. Riley, supervisor of the unemployment service, $3540; E. Francis O'Day of Lowell, supervisor of the unemployment service, $3360; and Francis J. McCreehan, former Boston College baseball coach, unemployment office manager at $3520.

Patten says he desires to place the seven examination papers before the special investigating commission, which is still probing UCC "gift jobs."

When Representative Philip G. Bowker of Brookline, member of the legislative commission, heard the reports, he declared:

"In view of the request for the non-competitive examination papers, it will be interesting to note whether a re-marking of the papers occurred through any pressure from any source outside the civil service department."

Gift to Mother Is All Tragedy

Sadly, they told Mrs. Annie MacArthur today that her son Jimmie, a student at the Farm and Trade School, wouldn't be home for Christmas—but that he had tried his hardest.

All this was while police grappled in the harbor about Thompson's Island for the body of 13-year-old Jimmie, whose widowed mother lives at 19 Magazine street, Cambridge.

Jimmie was eating lunch at the school when he began thinking about home and Christmas. Officials at the school had said nothing of a trip up the harbor to go home for the holiday.

A few minutes later he was straining across the cold harbor waters in an effort to reach the mainland. Other boys shouted for him to turn back but Jimmie only yelled:

"I'm going home for Christmas."

But Jimmie never reached home. Even while officials raced to his aid in the school launch, the exhausted youth slipped beneath the waves.

The boy, whose father died several years ago, was a good student at the school, intensely interested in aviation. He prepared for the Farm and Trade School at Plummer Farm School, Salem.

Four Cleared In Rifle Death

Four Somerville men, three of them city employees, were cleared of all charges in Somerville district court today in connection with the late death of 13-month-old Mary Elizabeth Hardy of 18 Fisk avenue.

Judge Ralph M. Smith dismissed the charges of assault with a dangerous weapon after he had been informed by Sergeant Earle W. Elliott that the case and all the evidence had been presented to the grand jury, which returned a no-bill.

The quartet exonerated are Ralph F. Carey, 40, Newbury street; William J. Cantwell, 28, Lexington avenue; James J. Fitzgerald, 44, Ames street, and Charles M. McKiel, 41, of Russell road.

Soviet Seeks To Regain Voice In Europe

LONDON, Dec. 2 (INS)—A striking new bid by Soviet Russia for renewed participation in the affairs of continental Europe, breaking the anti-Russian "toe-jam" created at Munich, was seen by political observers today in announcement of a far-reaching trade agreement between Moscow and Poland.

Comin only a few weeks after renewal of the Russo-Polish act of friendship, the trade agreement was looked upon as one of political rather than economic importance, with these two purposes closely intertwined:

1.—Revival of Soviet Russia as a potent factor in European affairs.

2.—Creation of a Russo-Polish bulwark which may prove a stumbling block for Reichsführer Adolf Hitler in his eastward drive toward the Ukraine.

Importance of the first factor was emphasized by the disclosure to International News Service in Paris that France had officially reaffirmed her pledge to assist Russia in event of unprovoked aggression.

This alone marked a departure from the path of diplomatic procedure stemming from the four-power pact at Munich, from which Russia was arbitrarily excluded.

Since the time of the September crisis, Russia has been ignored by Great Britain and France. There were definite indications that the latter might even write off her military mutual assistance pact with the Soviets.

Judging by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons on Monday, however, Britain is beginning officially to acknowledge that despite the Munich pact the Fuehrer is far from appeased.

Even such slight stimulus from London probably played a part in inducing France to reinstate her policies to the extent of remaining on a close footing with a nation that possesses a potential army of 12,000,000 men.

Moir Case Goes to Jury

After a two-day recital of evidence, Judge J. Arthur Bauer today charged a Essex County jury at Salem in the $25,000 alienation of affections suits brought by Harold D. Moir, 37, Gloucester dentist technician, against Lemuel T. MacDonald, Gloucester policeman.

Moir charged that the Gloucester officer, tampered with the affections of Mrs. Bertha Anna Moir in 1931 in a series of affectionate meetings in Gloucester and at Lowell.

Mrs. Moir was divorced by her husband in 1935 on grounds of unfaithfulness but the man named was another than MacDonald.

Tobin Parking 'Purge' Works

Mayor Tobin's "purge" of parking on Beacon and School streets was continued today after its inception met with improved driving conditions.

Traffic moved more freely as taxicabs on Beacon street from the State House to Tremont street were abolished. There is still room for improvement, however, the Mayor said.

Capone Broke; Wife, Brother Aid Sick Convict

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20—Al Capone is broke!

The federal government is convinced Capone has no assets other than a heavily encumbered estate at Miami, Fla., International News Service learned today.

For eight months two U. S. agents have been ferreting out all possible channels of Capone's income. The agents now feel certain that the ex-vice lord of Chicago has no fortune hidden, and to all intents and purposes is flat broke.

Disclosures of Capone's financial collapse came shortly after revelation that his mental collapse from paralysis is considered "too dangerous" for his scheduled release next month from Alcatraz. He will be kept in a federal prison another two years.

"Attorney's fees, court costs and large income tax liens have used up all Capone's cash and forced him to put heavy mortgages against his Florida estate," one agent declared.

"For two years Capone has been getting what few extras he can purchase at Alcatraz through the purses of his blonde wife, Mae, and brother, Ralph Capone."

Mrs. Capone, who has visited him each month during the four years he has been a prisoner on the Rock, has been living on the income from a trust fund established during his heyday in Chicago.

Olcott Widow To Wed Again

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Chauncey Olcott, widow of the famous American Irish ballad singer, announced today she will be married before the New Year to Ralph (Ted) Stuyvesant Brown, society broker-writer.

Mrs. Olcott, wealthy in her own right, was the former Margaret O'Donovan, of San Francisco. She married Olcott, a native of Lockport, N. Y., in 1887. The singer, who introduced "Mother Machree," "My Wild Irish Rose," and many other famous ballads, was 71 when he died at his Monte Carlo home in 1932.

"The announcements are printed and the wedding will take place as soon as Mr. Brown arrives from California," said Mrs. Olcott. She said they would make their home here.

AUTO HITS POLE; 2 HURT

Everett Seizes Cash of Woman Shot by 2 Men

While two young men were sought by police today for the shooting of 44-year-old Mrs. Ella N. Kelley at Winter street, Everett, the city welfare agent announced a lien had been put on $1969 found on her person to get back $440 paid her in old age assistance.

William J. Brickley, welfare agent, said Morris Silverstein, city counsel, would start legal proceedings to recover the money he said had been paid since November, 1936.

He said Mrs. Kelley had even written to President Roosevelt in efforts to get aid.

Shot through the neck at her home, Mrs. Kelley was taken to Whidden Memorial Hospital in Everett, where doctors said she probably would recover.

Still conscious when police answered a call by neighbors, she said the two men introduced themselves as welfare workers and asked if she was getting aid.

As she hesitated they produced guns and forced her into her room. One fired as she sat down, and then the two fled.

Police found the $1969 under pillows and in her clothes.

Jury Wrangles On Gimp Verdict

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21 (INS)—Grim-faced and serious, six men and six women, who hold the fate of Colonel Martin Moe "The Gimp" Snyder, argued the wrangled in a jury room today seeking a verdict in the case against the little man who for 17 years was Ruth Eting's husband.

And the Gimp, as his fate hung in the balance, sat fumed and nervous in an ante-room to Judge Thomas L. Ambrose's court, apparently uncertain in his own mind whether his plea of self-defense in the shooting of Myrl Alderman, Miss Eting's new spouse, would save him from long years in the penitentiary.

There was a rumor floating about the corridors that the jury stood six to six over the question of Colonel Gimp's guilt or innocence.

'Working Wife' Loses in Somerville

The city of Somerville won its first working wife case today when Judge Michael H. Sullivan in Somerville dismissed the petition of Marion E. Gillard on a technicality of residence.

City Solicitor Robert J. Muldoon won his point when he asked the Gillard suit be dropped because her legal residence was in Medford and therefore the suit should have been brought in the Malden court.

Italy Orders All Able Youths Take Air Test

LONDON, Dec. 21 (INS).—Premier Mussolini in a drive to provide for Italy the most formidable "shock" troops of the air, the world has ever seen, has secretly ordered every mentally and physically able youth in the nation to take special examinations for entry into the Italian air force. It was disclosed as a reliable authority today.

Every young Italian eligible for army service is being tested to determine his qualifications as an aviator. It was stated, "The purpose is to create as soon as possible the world's largest force of trained air pilots. According to estimates here, Italy under this plan will possess eventually 100,000 pilots and air corps reserves.

Men accepted in the Italian air force are being trained for life enlistment. It is estimated that Italy now possesses 10,000 fully trained pilots and is adding hundreds to this number every week. At the same time, Italian production methods are said to be turning out large numbers of war planes.

Italy's Air Plan Stirs Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (INS).—Ranking army and navy officers evinced keen interest in Italy's reported secret plan to test all of its youth for service in the Italian air corps.

Responsible quarters indicated this government may use diplomatic channels in an effort to secure Italy's official confirmation of the report.

Army officers viewed the London dispatch, disclosing Italy's plan, as justifying the administration's projected air expansion, reportedly entailing construction of 12,000 planes and the training of thousands of civil pilots and mechanics at government expense.

Edward J. Noble, chairman of the civil aeronautics authority, is on record as declaring that American civil aviation, in all its aspects, could be multiplied twenty-five fold without straining our economics. In a speech at New York University recently he contended the expansion would benefit the aircraft industry.

Seize Hundreds In Franco Plot

LONDON, Dec. 21 (INS).—Between "200 and 1000 persons" were reported arrested early today following exposure of a plot to reveal details of Generalissimo Franco's new anti-government offensive by using British diplomatic channels for sending the information into government Spain.

Those arrested include several insurgent army officers, some of them reportedly members of the Franco general staff, dispatches from insurgent Spain said.

The plot was revealed through the British foreign office which disclosed that a package containing Franco's plans for a new offensive was found in a British diplomatic pouch en route from the British vice consul at San Sebastian, Spain, to the embassy at St. Jean de Luz, France.

Rats Peril 48 Marooned Men

PARIS, Dec. 21 (AP)—Forty-eight French colonist-fishermen battled raging storms, rats and cold at far-off, rocky St. Paul Island—the "isle of perdition" in the Indian Ocean—today while much of the southern hemisphere tried to get in radio contact with them and with ships which might go to their aid.

The French fishermen, who are known as the "Pêcheurs de St. Paul," are marooned on the island, which is about 100 miles from the nearest land. They are in a desperate situation, as they have no food and no shelter. The weather is terrible, with heavy rain and strong winds. The fishermen are trying to get in radio contact with the outside world, but they have not been successful yet.

Attention! N. E. Girls

Here's a Chance To Be Famous!

Miss Priscilla Tate, noted Boston artist who has painted famous American and European women, accepted a place on the Cosmopolitan Girl judges board today and said:

"This is indeed a great opportunity for New England girls!"

And indeed it is.

Cosmopolitan Magazine, tracing its Eastern history, American and European, dates its origin to 1911

when it was first published in New York city by the late John W. Aldrich of Warner Brothers and published by H. W. Carter. YOU are the

YOU are the first to read Miss newly published Cosmopolitan

Magazine, the first to read the editorial of Miss Tate, the editor of Cafe Swank.

BUT THAT'S NOT ALL!

IT MEANS GIRLS—

and that's the first time in the history of the magazine that a girl has been named as the editor of the magazine.

Civil Service Change Sought

By JOHN W. ENGLISH

A coalition of labor and the American Legion to purify the rules and regulations of the state civil service department is forecast as a result of the call of the Legion for a special convention in Gardner Auditorium, State House, on Sunday, January 15.

The purpose is for "discussing and taking any actions, if necessary, in regard to the question of veterans' preference and civil service regulations, rules and laws, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

It was learned that the delegates will probably recommend repeal of non-competitive examinations in state service, because of their unfairness to non-veterans as well as veterans.

Thousands of these non-competitive examinations have been given in the past. The present governor's office staff is being cared for through these examinations in state service, because of their unfairness to non-veterans as well as veterans.

The Legion delegates will also, in all probability demand abolition of 21 of the civil service, which has to do with provisional appointments, whereby the rank and file of subordinates have no chance.

They will also attack the present method of making appointments, which sometimes results in a person being employed many years through reappointment, and in many cases, without merit.

It is estimated that the union of veterans and the American Legion will be in favor of a change in the present method of making appointments, and in many cases, without merit.

Many veterans have been elected to the state legislature, and in many cases, without merit.

The meeting will be held in the Gardner Auditorium, State House, on Sunday, January 15.

New Traffic Rules Aid Yule Shoppers Here

As a result of Mayor Tobin, police department has experiment in new traffic rules to aid Yule shoppers here.

The police department has stopped at a number of streets and corners in the city, and in Washington street, leaving a number of officers stationed there.

As a second experiment, they have placed a line on the street from Jay street to Tremont, close to the parking and similarly closed school street from Tremont to Washington.

Success police have had in handling traffic at Washington, Summer and Winter streets without use of lights, in such ways encouraged them and Mayor Tobin in a belief the same measure might prove effective at other busy corners.

Wrap Holiday Goody Gifts Attractively

FROM MARTHA STEWART'S WEDNESDAY BROADCAST AND OTHER STATIONS WHEN 11 A. M.

THE HOLIDAY season is upon us, and with it the custom of exchanging gifts. For many of us, the joy of giving is as much a part of the season as the joy of receiving. To make the most of this time, it is well to wrap our gifts attractively. There are many ways to do this, and we will give you some suggestions. First, choose your wrapping paper carefully. It should be in keeping with the gift you are wrapping. If you are wrapping a book, for example, choose a paper that is in keeping with the book's theme. If you are wrapping a toy, choose a paper that is in keeping with the toy's theme. Second, use a variety of wrapping techniques. Don't just wrap your gifts in a single layer of paper. Use tissue paper, crinkled paper, and other materials to make your gifts look more attractive. Third, use ribbons and bows to finish off your gifts. A simple ribbon bow can make a big difference in the appearance of your gift. Finally, don't forget to include a note with your gift. A simple note saying "Merry Christmas" or "Happy Holidays" can add a personal touch to your gift.

TRIMMING A PLUM PUDDING.—This is a traditional Christmas treat. To make it, you need a plum pudding mix, eggs, and a few other ingredients. The mix is very easy to use, and the result is a delicious pudding. You can serve it with cream or fruit. It is a great treat for the whole family.

DESIGNS FOR FRUIT CAKE PACKAGES.—Fruit cake is another traditional Christmas treat. It is a rich, moist cake made with fruit and spices. There are many ways to package it, and we will give you some suggestions. You can use a simple paper bag, or you can use a more decorative box. The important thing is to make it look attractive.

MADAME ALEXANDER, the doll lady, has been springing surprises on children for more than fifteen years. Her newest is this delightful, long-legged Wendy Ann! She's entirely different from any doll ever made in this country. Slim and graceful as an eight-year-old, after whom she is modeled. Her body is jointed so that she can assume many different positions. She can touch her toes, swing her long arms high over her head, recline on her elbow, sit up, stand up, bend backward and forward. And if you plan to be an extra-munificent Santa, you may also buy an extra wardrobe for her, which comes packed in a suit case. About three dollars for Wendy Ann dressed the way we show her. For shopping information, phone Annie Brink, Fashion Editor, Liberty 4000, week-days until five-thirty, or drop a postcard in care of the Boston American.

Hundreds and hundreds of families in Boston are dependent on the generosity of their fellows to make this Christmas a little more pleasant than the other 364 days of the year . . . At best, it won't be a very "Merry Christmas" for these poor people . . . But a Boston American Christmas Basket will brighten the day greatly . . . In many cases, a Boston American Christmas Basket will represent the heartiest meal of the entire year . . .

There remain but a few days before Christmas . . . To the hundreds of you who have been nice enough to acknowledge any small favor which this department has been able to extend in 1938, your reporter today asks a favor in return . . . The final drive for the Basket Fund is on . . . Your contribution will be gratefully received . . . Please act on the impulse NOW, and send your bit along to the Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund.

Eva Tanguay, the "I Don't Care" girl who was the "highest priced act" in vaudeville not so many years ago, is reported as convalescing from an illness which threatened her life . . . Twenty odd years after Eva reached the peak of her career, another actress startled the country with the daring of her performance . . . Even her critics will be interested to know that it was Mae West who made Miss Tanguay's recovery possible . . . Miss West paid the bills, and insisted that the treatment be the best that could be had . . . On the Mae West personal payroll, of a hundred dollars a week, Miss Tanguay has been a permanent beneficiary . . . Since the day when Mae learned Eva was back.

A spectacular success of "A Christmas Carol" is being met with an additional "three days at Loew's State and Orpheum Theaters" it was announced last night.

"The Great Waltz" starring Louise Rainer, Richard Grayson, and Muzza Kappa is based on the life of John Strauss. Beginning with the early beginnings of the composer, it progresses through his triumphs, marriage, infatuation for the brilliant singer, who later married a girl who was the daughter of a nobleman, and his final great moments at the court of the Empress Elizabeth.

Such beloved Strauss music as "The Blue Danube," "The Bohemian March," and other famous melodies are introduced in "The Great Waltz" in a most effective manner.

Louis Alone Tops Tonight's Boxers
Garden Heavies Possess Class

By JACK CONWAY

I WOULD BE willing to take Buddy Knox, Bob Pastor, Al McCoy and Tony Shucro, the four heavyweights who will toss punches in the Goodwin Club's Christmas Basket Fund show at the Garden tonight, against any four big fellows you might wish to name. I think I would be a 10 to 8 favorite to get the edge in the matter of decisions.

Mr. Boston

Joe Louis, Lou Nova, Max Baer and Tony Galento would probably be your selections.

I admit Louis would probably conquer any of the four heavyweight stars in the Goodwin Club's card tonight. Louis is a great champion, and should continue to rule the heavyweight division for three to five years more.

Going beyond Louis I would advise you not to wager too much money on any of your choices.

True, Lou Nova defeated Tommy Farr, but that was not a brilliant ring feat. At the best, Farr was never more than a fair second-rater. His greatest distinction to ring fame is that he kept out of the way of Louis' punches for 15 rounds.

Some of the boys in the ringside press insisted the Weishman was quite a bicycle rider. I do not believe Tommy should be criticized for running on Louis. His tactics at least showed he possesses good sense, and that he was anxious to fight again. I do not believe anybody can improve his health by standing up and making it a two-man fight with Louis.

Nova lacks the necessary experience to make him a sure winner over any of the four boxers on tonight's card. It takes five years to develop a heavyweight to the point where he is the finished fistic article. Joe Louis was an exception to this rule, but I do not believe Nova is.

Max Baer might prove the softest touch for the heavyweights on the Garden card. Max is still very much of a boxing question mark, and any young, strong, aggressive heavyweight who can punch a bit has an excellent chance to beat him.

I refuse to get excited about Tony Galento. He is still a tavern keeper in my book. I don't like beer and ale fighters, especially when they carry as much tonnage as Tony. Extra weight slows down a boxer, and puts a terrific burden on his heart.

Joe Jacobs is picking the spots carefully for Galento. Joe didn't assume too much risk sending Tony against Harry Thomas and Otis Thomas. Now there is talk of a Tony Galento-Buddy Baer bout in Miami, Fla. Buddy has never rated better than a good semi-final fighter.

BUDDY KNOX, who clashes with Al McCoy tonight, is shooting high in the boxing game. If he wins over the New England champion, he has a chance to get a match with Lou Nova in New York. Knox has an advantage at the box office on account of the fact he is an Irish-American boxer. Since the days of the immortal John L. Sullivan, the public has felt that the Irish make the best fighters. A listing of present day champions does not prove this contention, but there is still real glamour around any Irish-American ring star who can punch as well as take it.

Knox has already beaten McCoy once, and believes he will do so again.

Al insists his defeat at the hands of Knox was due to inactivity. Since the Knox bout, McCoy has boxed regularly, and now believes he will more than even the score.

Knox and McCoy can both punch, and each intends to strive for a knockout. This means the fans should witness a thrilling tussle.

Bob Pastor can regain his former position in the ranks of the leading contenders for a bout with Joe Louis if he wins from Tony Shucro. This should be a good bout to watch, and is sure to furnish its share of excitement.

Any of the four boxers in tonight's big heavyweight bouts can go a long way along the fistic trail if he wins. It is possible that at least two of the heavyweights in the Garden show will eventually get a crack at Joe Louis.

I think Matchmaker "Rip" Valenti of the Goodwin Club is acting the part of Santa Claus to the fans in offering his big show at popular prices of 35 cents, $1.10, $1.65 and $2.20. The Garden is a big place with its almost 18,000 seats, and Valenti is anxious to have plenty of company when he stages his brilliant ring offering.

"THE SHADOW," mystery man of the wrestling wars, will receive his most severe test when he clashes with Yvon Robert, former world's champion, in a finish bout, best two falls out of three, at the Garden tomorrow night.

Robert was tops as a champion, and is in the midst of a come-back campaign that he hopes will secure for him another tussle with Steve Casey for the world's title. The Frenchman has speed, power and a fine variety of wrestling holds.

Yvon is confident he will unmask "The Shadow" after scoring a straight fall victory.

"The Shadow" will have the benefit of the coaching of Eddie Quinn who formerly managed Robert. Quinn has directed "The Shadow" in his climb up the wrestling heights. Eddie says the mystery grappler has too much ability for Robert.

"The Shadow," like Robert, will demand a title skirmish with Steve Casey if he leaves the ring a victor.

Win Green Luck Charm To Bruins Ace Goalie

Brimsek Sets New Record

By BILL GRIMES

Since he rejoined the Bruins, Frankie Brimsek has made a practice of turning his wrist watch over to Win Green while he is in action on the ice.

"Greenie" didn't prove much of a charm in Frankie's first game as a regular Bruins goal minder, for when the final whistle tooted, the Rossmen were on the short end of a 2 to 1 tilt with Les Canadiens in Montreal.

But, Frankie was convinced that that "Old Master" would bring him luck. So, when he went out to face the Black Hawks in Chicago, Brimsek asked C. Winslow to hold the time piece.

Neither Frankie nor Win thought much of that 5 to 6 shut out in Chicago nor were they unduly excited when the rookie repeated here at the Garden.

But, when Brimsek came into the Boston dressing room in Madison Sq. Garden after he had blanked the Rangers 3 to 0, Art Ross was almost convinced that "Greenie," not Brimsek had been in the nets. The creator of the now famous "Green System" was all smiles and even his usual modesty failed to prevent him from cutting in on what he felt was his share of the glory that accompanies three straight shut outs.

Then, came the home and home series with Les Canadiens.

REAL COMEBACK
The "Old Master" came back into his own after Brimsek had held the Flying Frenchman scoreless last Thursday night in Montreal and then he walked into a really tough predicament for Detroit was the next part of call and Tiny Thompson would be in the nets for the Red Kings.

Brimsek, who is as cool as was Georges Vézina, after he had blanked the Flyers last night, was concerned in the slightest over the fact that he would be confronted by the greatest goalie in the N. H. L. when he began dressing for the game in Detroit.

"Hey, Win, take care of my watch, will ya?" called out Frankie.

"Sure, that's one of the most important duties of the trainer de luxe," replied "Greenie," "but, let's get this watch holding straight out. You know, you can't expect me to come through in every game. I'm bound to slip eventually but I think I feel lucky tonight."

Well, Brimsek rung up his fifth shut out that night, in Detroit. Then, last night, Win and Frankie went into a huddle before the Bruins went out on the ice. "Greenie" took the watch put it on his wrist, slapped the rookie on the back and whispered, "Go out an get 'em. I've a hunch that there's another shut out in the offing."

And, sure enough, Frankie Brimsek blanked the Americans a team composed of eager veterans who know as much about scoring goals as any outfit in the Calder loop.

It was Frankie Brimsek's sixth scoreless game in seven starts, a new modern record.

Although he has only been a regular member of the Bruins since Dec. 1, Frankie Brimsek has blanked every team in the league that he has faced. In fact, Les Canadiens is the only team that has scored on him.

Sonja Collects $80,000

Frankie Brimsek is so far on his way to a new modern day shut-out record that it's no laughing matter. Just imagine a raw rookie with but one year in pro hockey tussling in six shut-outs in his last seven games. In 10 games, Brimsek has been beaten for only seven goals, which gives him an average of exactly 7. . . . Coach Arnold Eddy, of Southern Cal., says that "Ace" Bailey will bring an exceptionally clever Toronto variety sextet here during the holidays. . . . He also stated that "Ace" is looking and feeling great. . . . Two years ago, "Red" Mahoney, the old B. C. and Olympic winger, played amateur hockey with Frankie Brimsek in Pittsburgh and predicted that the current Bruins goal minder would reach the top of the ladder. . . . According to Neil O'Hara, the handle at "Gan-sett" fell off $75,000 per day last season. . . . After losing to Yale and Princeton by wide margins, Boston University turned around and beat Harvard last night, 6 to 3. . . . Looks like the Terriers might have another Frankie Brimsek in Johnny Walker, who had never been in the nets until this season. . . . Freddie Corcoran is on his way to California. . . . He has lined up a fine string of tournaments on the Coast and all of the big time pros will make the trip. . . . On one America's rink last night, Bobby Bauer checked three men. . . . He took the puck from Al Murray before the little defense man could get out of his own zone. . . . Then, he stopped Joe Jerwa, who had picked up the loose puck and finally knocked the disc off "Sweeney" Schringer's stick. . . . Incidentally, that Kitchener line has been flying of late. . . . If he continues to improve, Art Jackson will be back with the Rossmen next season. . . . He's really stepping at a very fast clip and is also developing into a goal getter. . . . Cleveland will send Tony Kvedar, the Athol High star, to a higher classification next season. . . . Tony was with Owego of the Canadian-American League. . . . He will be ordered to toss away his ice skate and devote his time to the outfield. . . . Johnny Dickshot, the Bees' new outfielder and Jack Benny, the radio star, were fellow luncheoners. . . . They were born in Waukegan, Ill. . . . Dickshot cannot play "The Bee". . . . Neither can Benny, for that matter. . . . Sonja Henie took $80,000 out of New England. . . . According to Art Ross, the Detroit Red Wings have got back the $15,000 spent for

Sonja Henie

Art Ross

Tiny Thompson. . . . There's a New Year's State League in its making and the Bees may have a "farm" in the new organization. . . . Now, that he has gone off the deep end, Tom Early must make good with the Bees. . . . Nels Stewart was loud in his praise of Brimsek after last night's game. . . . Charlie Sands would have been seriously injured last night, when he was tossed into the iron pipe which supports the screen, but for the fact that he was wearing a helmet. . . . Herbie Schmidt will be lost to the Bruins for at least a week.

Dodgers After Old Al Simmons

By the Associated Press

Maybe Dr. Townsend owns stock in the Brooklyn Dodgers . . . The daffy ones signed Catcher Luke Sewell who has been in the big time since 1921 . . . and are after Al Simmons, the outfielder, a strapping of 35.

There's no truth to a report covering Cleveland Alexander will pitch the opener for the Superbas (haw) however . . . quite a few beets over the fact John F. Vander Meer didn't rate higher in the (AP) poll for the No. 1 athlete of the year . . . "He pitched two no-hitters in a row, a feat 140 or so pitchers have been trying to do for 50 years and which won't be done again for another 50," writes Jerry Nadeau.

Another reader nominated Ace Parker, All American and All Pro basketball player, crack basketball player and a second baseman worthy of a big league trial as the top athlete of our time.

Sid Hulle of London has slapped a suit for 750 pounds (about $3,750 to us) on Tommy Farr for evading a fight in London . . . how'd you like to hang by your thumbs till he collects.

Arnold Hoffman, Max Baer's manager, is doing some trans-continental dickering with Mike Jacobs now that the dancing Baer again is a key figure in Jacobs' maneuvers . . . Claims he can put Maxie on with Tony Galento out on the coast and turn 'em away . . . "Let him talk," quoth Mike. "This is where the dough is. He'll come along."

great boxer in his own right. Add victory lists: The Hull-Dale-eta Bobcats of Angleton, Texas, who have won 35 straight football games since the 1933 season averaged 20 points a game and held the opposition to three points . . . Jack Bennett, the old Chicago middleweight, is connected with the Sarasota (Fla.) city recreation department now—and is in demand for referee assignments in Florida rings.

Strike me pink! . . . at the Woking golf course in England there are no distances on the tee boxes, no scorecards and only one competition a year (for the medal).

The Golf Monthly of Edinburgh says the course is "steeped in an atmosphere of dignity . . . you can have the dignity, eh, how far is that little tin cup from here."

Very, very strange that as of the milk "panties" at Duke . . . the Blue Devils are being shipped to a freestyle by needling from the coast which places them in the same class as Wellesley's girls school, as far as Rose Bowl opposition for Southern California goes.

Just when the boys were beginning to take things a little calmly in come two pair of gale pants for Co-Captains Eric Tipton and Dan Hill . . . The Dukes report the post mark couldn't be read . . . could it be that the Duke board of strategy had a hand in sending them.

"I believe that coaching staffs occasionally inspire their teams with similar episodes," said Howard Jones, the U. S. C. coach . . . Note to Duke fans: Mrs. Jones never raised any dumb children.

Connie, 76, Still Looks To Future

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (INS)

—On the eve of his 76th birthday, Connie Mack today looked forward with the eagerness of youth to the 1934 baseball season.

The venerable manager of the Athletics intends to celebrate his birthday Friday at home surrounded by his family and perhaps a few old-time friends. Records at East Brookfield, Mass., show Cornelius McGillicuddy was born on December 22 but due to some mix-up in the intervening years, he observes the 22d as his natal day.

ANOTHER PENNANT

Mack's talk is all of the future, despite the fact that in his 35 years of managing the A's he has tutored a greater number of big-league pennant winners than any other man in the history of the game. The veteran traces his success to "looking forward."

"Resign or retire from baseball," Connie asserted indignantly. "Not as long as I know what's going on. If I ever trade a 300 hitter for a 200 hitter, I'll know I'm slipping and then—but then only I'll leave the bench."

"I feel fine, and I expect to get another pennant winner together before I retire," asserted the tall tactician.

Connie was as full of enthusiasm as ever in expressing qualified approval of night baseball. A novelty undreamed of when he first donned a catcher's mitt in a professional game in 1883. The gray-haired, be-gin manager, ever ready to accept a new idea—thinks baseball under floodlights will help the game if it isn't overdone.

Of immediate anticipation—and concern—to him is the forthcoming A's spring training season at Lake Charles, La. Not too much disappointed at his failure to make trades at the recent baseball conference in New York, Connie looks forward to another season of "building up" a young, promising team.

Grid Bowl Briefs

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21 (AP)—Southern California's Rose Bowl training plans took on a different aspect today.

Two weeks ago Coach Howard Jones named out a comparatively light training schedule, fearful his Trojan war horse would be overruled by the time the Dukes hit Pasadena.

Today, however, with hardly a good practice behind them because of bad weather, Jones is afraid the outfit will be under-conditioned.

The Trojan medical staff took another look at the injured knee of Tony Tonelli this morning, saw that it was still swollen and announced it was doubtful if the big right guard would play January 2.

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 21 (AP)—Duke University and Durham joined in a noisy send-off for Duke University football squad that meets Southern California January 2 in the Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, Cal.

The special train, which reaches Pasadena Saturday morning, carried 31 players of the unscathed Rose Bowl, five coaches, university officials, sports writers and fans.

The squad worked out today in Pine Bluff, Ark., and at Lubbock, Tex., Thursday.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—While the Tennessee and Oklahoma teams hunched on their football on home fields today, Miami made preparations to accommodate more cash customers at the Orange Bowl game here January 2.

The recreation board announced less than 700 regular seats in the 24,000 capacity stadium remained unsold, and said $7000 had been appropriated in street 5000 additional temporary seats.

Salem to Open With Newburyport High

NEWBURYPORT, Dec. 21 —Eight games, five of them to be played here in the new Sports Stadium now in process of construction, are scheduled for Newburyport High School's football season next fall. The opening game on September 15 when the school's new stadium is to be dedicated will be played with Salem as the opponent. Three open dates remain to be filled in the schedule.

September 16, Salem; September 23, at Gloucester; September 30, Beverly; October 7, at Marblehead; October 14, open; October 21, open; October 28, Dyer, N. H.; November 4, Haverhill; November 11, open; November 18, at Swampscott; November 30, Amesbury.

A Bug's Eye View of Sports

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Maxie Baer makes the varsity huddle in the 1933 all-Jacobs team.

John Henry Lewis is also served with A-1 sauce. Next comes Lou Nova, Jim Braddock and Tommy Farr. Promoter Jacobs picks them on their box-office proteins.

Mike does all right when you realize he taught himself and plays the cash register entirely by ear. He figures Maxie Baer would outdraw them all with Champy the Louis. Maxie fights just often enough to make you wonder whether he can or not.

Schmeling, Toles, Dorazio and Galento are also headliners on the gravy boat.

Names missing in the list of heavies who have fought Joe Louis are Calvera, Levinsky, Padino, Retzlaff, Sharkey, Ettore, Breccia, Nattie Brown, Simma and Thomas. Mike also forgets to list Matt Raymond, who loads himself up like a slot machine full of slugs.

Matt complicated the situation by wrapping 60 pounds of lead pipe around his waist the weighing in for Henry Cooper. He doesn't know that the place to wrap lead pipe is around the other fellow's neck.

Matt is a hundred and sixty-five pound Philadelphia who fights heavies. It seems that Philadelphia lightweights and Pennsylvania heavyweights are all middleweights.

Matt should put some of the lead in his shoes and play first base for Brooklyn.

There is nothing sentimental or altruistic about the all-Jacobs team which will play in the sportsorium. They must be able to keep the fruit bouncing in Mike's coconut grove.

We miss Harry Thomas in the stag line. Harry always fell with his face towards the foe and a good song ringing clear. He could take it. But he couldn't carry it.

Tommy Farr is the fellow with the most terminal facilities for handling leather goods in transit. Tommy stands off more punching than the time clock in Hank Ford's flivver works.

Our advice to most of those boys is to stay off Joe Louis' crossing. Putting a kid glove on a crocodile's tail doesn't soften up the side-swipe.

Mike has buttered his list and he must lie upon it.

Like Mahatma Gandhi getting dressed for his opera, Mike seems to be suffering from dearth of material. In fact, Mike should write a book, called "Good Dearth." Now go on with the story.

Olympic Club Members Enter Silver Skates

By WALTER KILEY

The skating clans are flocking to the Silver Skates Derby ranks. Boston's famous Olympic Skating Club is first to rally to the annual speed championship cause. As in past years, the Olympics of Boston are entering almost one hundred per cent of their membership. And that membership includes several men and women stars who have been flirting with national championships for years.

Regular practice sessions have already been ordered for the Olympics. These speedsters, one and all, realize the value of practice and training and are leaving nothing to chance when it comes to being ready for the big Sunday afternoon, January 22d, title races at Boston Garden.

Entries started flowing in to this office immediately on the publication of the entry blank.

They're coming in from all over New England, our skaters knowing now, after the experiences of the past three years, that the Silver Skates Derby is the outstanding competition of the Eastern season.

Once again the Derby is thrown open to every skater, male or female, in New England. The youngsters are welcome and so are the oldsters.

As can be seen by a study of the entry blank conditions, there are classes for all the various ages, so that each boy and girl is competing with others of his or her own age. While all those over 18 are contesting in the senior ranks, as is proper and fitting.

The party at the Garden will be bigger and better than ever this year. A wonderful afternoon is in store for both the rival skaters and the huge crowd of spectators as confidently expected.

We ask today that every prospective entrant get the entry blanks along immediately and then get down to the serious business of training.
